It is no longer the feeble hand of "Republicanism" that holds the reins or runs the machine, but that bold, dashing Northwest party, which will ask what it wants and will have it.

It may be said that these new members of Congress don't go immediately into office, and, therefore, that the elections will not have the proper practical effect. It isn't the new members of Congress that is one of the most important results in the late contest. It is the moral effect of the late victory. In Republics, armies are not altogether blind effectual course to put an end to divisions machines in the hands of rulers.

Why, it is asked by some, are not peace propositions offered to the Confederates? Certainly, all persons are anxious for peace on a proper basis. We suppose there is no one so unnatural as to wish to have the war carried on merely for the luxnry of destroying life, or laying waste the country, and the appeal sounds more arms and ammunition? Let the Republican reasonable on the surface than it is in fact. Those who sincerely ask this question, should bear it in mind that there is, and has always been, an open and tangible peace proclamation made, and open to the people in rebellion. They have only to acknowledge the Constitution in force over them, and return to their allegiance, and they cannot only have peace, but what is the highest liberality, have a vote upon the terms which they deem most acceptable. Let any State wanting peace elect members to the National Congress, and they will, as far as the United States is concerned, have peace at once, and not only peace, but protection. For this reason sincere lovers of peace should bear it in mind that we cannot have it only because the rebels will not have peace upon the only terms which could be constitutionally made by the Govcrnment. We are at war because the rebels have their hands at our throats and refuse terms of accommodation. The doctrine of Secession, which they wish to have acknowledged, would be fatal to the Union, not only in giving up the secoded States, but also in the solemn affirmation that there was no real tie binding the States which remained us a tier of States, but would disintegrate the Federal Union. It would incorporate the doctrine of Secession, which the rebels have fixed in their Constitution, into onr own, since no State could consistently be

The matches being tightly packed, the young man introdused his finger nail between them to extract one, when a small portion of phosphorus passed under the nail and ignited. Although the flame was immediately extinguished, the hand had swelled so much on arriving at Dusseldorf that a surgeon advised its amputation. The student would net consent, and proceeded to Cologne, but on arriving there the swelling had so much extended as to render the amputation of both his hand and arm necessary.

Another "Outrage" by an American Vessel.

DESTRUCTION OF A REBEL PRIVATEER IN WATERS-THE EXCITEMENT IN

By the arrival of the steamship Saxon, from Havana, we have dates from that city to the 10th and from Vera Cruz to the 1st instant.

Considerable excitement has been cansed at Havana, and throughout the entire Island, by an alleged "ontrage" by the officers of an American man-of-war. The facts of the case are briefly these: On the afternoon of the 7th instant steamer was seen rapidly approaching tha Spanish coast, about six miles to the westward of the More Castle, pursued by a man-of-war. The steamer had British colors flying at the time, and the pursuer, from her general appearance, was a United States vessel. The captain of the British ship was clearly endeavoring to make for the harbor of Havana, but the American headed her off and the vessel was forced to run ashore.

Launches were at once dispatched from the eruiser to capture the captain and crew, and to get off the steamer, if possible. No sooner had the launches touched the shore, however, when a detachment of Spanish soldiers were seen approaching, on the appearance of which the commanders of the boats gave directions to are the vessel, which was immediately done, and the launehes returned to war steamer, taking with them the pilot of the destroyed vessel, whom they had captured. The cruiser immediately proceeded to sea. The ship destroyed proved to be the steamer Blancke, last from the port of Molato, where she had stopped for coal.

As to her mission and to where she belonged accounts differ, some say that correct, affirm that she hailed from Pert Lavacca, Texas, and had a earge of cotton. The man-of-war is supposed to have been either the "Dacotah" or "Montgomery," but these suppositions are doubtless erroneous,

The affair, as above stated, had crused a great sensation among the "Dons," and Spanish mer of-war were at once dispatched demand of the U. S. commander an explanation of his conduct, but they had re-nrned without finding him. It is said the facts of the esse will at once be laid before the Home Government. The Havana papers, being mostly in the nterest of the Government, have but little to say in reference to the matter, and are extremely cautious in their utterances. The Diario, of the 10th, however, has an article Wirtz, a German, who seemed to take es-American ship-builder, has just returned on the subject, in which, after recapitulating the facts in the case, hopes that the United States Government will not "only give satisfaction to Spain for the affront, state of the battle a horse, which field framework and that on the battle a horse, which field framework and that on the battle a horse, which field framework and the battle and the battle a horse, which field framework and the battle and the battle a horse, which field framework and the battle an he personally inspected the iron-clad fleets give satisfaction to Spain for the affront, but take care to instruct its subordinate officers to be more careful in the discharge Rebel Treatment of Prisoners.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times. who had a conversation with returned prisoners, captured at Pittsburg Landing along with Gen. Prentiss, writes as follows: THEIR TREATMENT.

Immediately after their capture at Shiloh, the rebels commenced robbing the Federal officers of their awords, and did not suspend their efforts until they had gotten possession of all that had not been broken. The Federal officers protested against this, as contrary to the usages of civilized warfare, but without avail. An officer of the Twelfth Iowa was informed by a rebel Colonel that he might keep his sword. Soon after another rebel officer came along and demanded it, and, upon it being refused, he seized a musket and with the butt knocked the Federal officer down, and then took his sword. The officer soon after recovered his senses, but had received an ugly wound, from which he did not recover in three

All tha Federal side arms were given up with the express promise, on the part of the rabel officers, that they should be returned, which of course never happened. Watches, knives, rings, everything followed their side arms; protect or resistance was use-less. A demand for anything, not instantly complied with, would be enforced by a blow from the butt of a pistol.

From first to last, the rations of the national prisoners were meager in quantity to the fault-finding that Sigel has not been and miserable in quality—many times even loathsome. When complaints were made against such treatment, the invariable reply was that it was the best they could do heir own soldiers had no better; it was all to our blockade, &o. In the same owing breath, however, they would declare that their armies were well fed, and their resources for carrying on the war abundant. While at Montgomery the prisoners would have suffered from starvation had they not made clay pipes, bone rings, and other tri-des, which they exchanged for food. In eating they were fed on wooden plates, with forks and spoons, in cases where prisoners did not have money to purchase better articles.

While at Montgomery our men housed in open cotton sheds, with no floor to lie on, and without blankets. Many of the deaths may be directly traced to this exposure in vermin-haunted sheds. Of the Shiloh prisoners over 100 privates and 15 commissioned officers died during their confinement, and, as the Southern press re-fused to publish the names of those who died, the fate of many will never be known by their friends in the North.

At Tuscaloosa our prisoners were subject ed to the most brutal treatment imaginable. The first day of their arrival there one of our men, while sitting in a window, was shot through the head by the guard, and and fell into the street a corpse. Capt. Lawler, of the Eighteenth Illinois, was placed in close confinement, heavily ironed, for two weeks, upon bread and water, for simply answering a question addressed to him by one of his own men. The guards were then ordered to shoot down without warning any officer who might be seen talking but few were willing to condemn so long as to the Federal privates, and the aentinels an opportunity remained for the consummaactually went about with their guns oocked, ready to shoot any "Yankee" whose head might be seen at the window. The prisoners at this place were under charge of a out to be simply a fizzle. It has been from Henry pecial delight in acts of brntality. Another in the same condition was bayoneted in the head, then knocked into the hold, and lay at the point of death for three months from his wounds.

Those whose constitutions were unequal to the task fell sick, and generally died from sheer neglect. Murder was a case of frequent occurrence. While at Montgomof a woman who lived in a house about thirty feet aslant from the prison. The prisoners would take their canteens, pass in single file to the window of the house, leave This movement will be apt to purify our them, and the next morning, in the same the canteens filled with milk.

the sentry's eye caught his attention. "My God! you don't mean to murder me? said he, but had scarcely attered the words heart.

Another murder in Macon took place on the 2d of July. A prisoner stood leaning against a tree a short distance from the sentry line. He was, without a word of warning, shot down by the sentinel and died the next dsy. At this place the guards were ordered by Major Ryland to shoot down, without even halting them, any prisoners who might approach within ten feet of the guard line. When this same officer, who was once a Methodist parson, was appealed to, on the ground of Christianity, to supply some additional comforts for those were dying in the hospitals, he replied that he had put off the robes of righteous-ness and put on those of death. He said that he thought that neglecting the sick Yankees was the best way to get rid of them When Lieutenant Jackson, of the Twelfth lowa, died, his friends desired that a Ten nessee clergyman-a prisoner-might be land refused, unless a rebel preacher was allowed to be present and take part in the razor-strop which he claimed was covered with a piece of Yankee skin. Anpurse made from the same material. A third wore ostenta iously upon his heal a spur which he asserted was made from the jaw-bone of a Yankee invader.

This retrogade movement has profoundly disappointed and mortified our people, and dashed the fond hopes they had formed of liberating Kentneky and Tennessee. price which almost places it beyond the reach of the poorer classes, with the pros-pect of a still further advance as the winter approaches. In this county a substitute for wool is now being made into a cloth by a great many persons, with the design of using their wool for our soldiers in the field. This substitute is cow hair. The cloth made of it is perhaps not quite so smooth as that made of wool, but is heavier, and, no doubt, will be nearly, if not equally, as warm, and will last fully as well. The hair is washed perfectly clean, and pulled or beat so as to have no bunches. After it is wall dried it is ready for use. Like wool for ordinary cloth, it is used only for "filling," and mixed with about one-third cotton. The common and easier way of mixing is by ginning it with the cotton, although it could be, I suppose, mixed fully as well by "carding." If the same quantity, in weight, of seed-cotton and hair are thoroughly mixed and placed in the gin after the seed are seperated, the cotton lint will be about one-third of the hair. The breast of the gin should be a little raised, or the hair will cause the saws to choke Cow hair, thus mixed with cotton, may be carded, spun, and made into cloth, with no more trouble than is required for wool or cotton. The hair can be purchased at the tanneries at fifteen or twenty cents per bushel. It is the cheapest material that ean now be had for making cloth, and it is speaks as follows of education: "The child—this is the supreme question the child has in his cradle the peace or war of the future. It is from that cradle we must chase away darkness. Let'us cause light to arise in the soul of infancy. Twenty-five years of gratnitous and obligatory instruction would change the face of the world. The child, I repeat it, is the future. The soil there is generous: it gives more than an year for the grain of wheat. Apply a spark there, it will become a blaze of light. To make a citizen let us begin by making a man. Let us open schools every-Where there is not an individual the interior light which instruction gives, then he is no man. He is no better than the head of a beast as compared with the multitude-one which exists in idleness, and which the master will take by-and-by to the pasture, and afterwards to the abattoir. In the human creature that which resists slavery is not matter-it is intelligence. Freedom commences when ignorance is dispersed. I had wished to say these things to you, and other things also. I cannot renounce the opportunity of doing so without much regret; but you will not want eloquent voices and generous spirits. These councils of intelli convoked from time to time are efficacious. Un Sabbath evening last the remains of Lieutenant Jos. L. McClure were borne to their resting place in the Frankfort Cemetery, followed by his relations and almost the entire population of Frankfort.

The death of this young man, but a few months over eighteen years of age, was so honorable and yet so mournful, that it deserves a notice from the public press. He was the son of John D. and Agness Mc-Clure, and his mother is a native of this place. His father died some years ago, leaving a dependent widow and a very arge family of young and helpless children. The eldest son died in a distant State. The next son was Captain W. T. McClure, of Pope's regiment, who died a few months ago, in Alabama, of disease contracted in the army. On the day of the battle of Chaplin Hills, the ambulance in which he was seated was ordered to the rear, but he jumped from it, determined to bear his share in the impending conflict. He went bravely into the action with his company, and was the first man wounded in it. A companion bore him from the field, and the wound was ascertained not only to be painful but very dangerous. The ball picrced his thigh a little below the hip joint, passing through the bones and crushing them in a terrible manner. In this condition he was brought home, and it soon became manifest that amputation would be necessary, as the only possible chance for life. It was skilifully performed, but the exhausted system could not rally, and he expired.

Thus has passed from earth as gallant a boy as ever trod upon its surface. He had about him all the elements that made up manly worth. He was eminently handmost winning address. These made him -a high sense of personal honor that comput the seal upon his character, that gave assurance that he would be true to his fellow-man, his country, and his God.

Brave, gallant, patriotic and noble boylife, can bequeath such a memory to his rigidly, effectually, and permanently enfriends and to his country.

BRANCH OFFICE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE

COMPANY No. 428 Main st., bet. Bullitt & Fifth sts NEW FORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY Nos. 112 and 114 Broadway, N. Y.

(MSTABLISHED IN 1845.) Ten Year Plan-Non-Forfeiture (Originated by this Company.)

THIS IS A PURELY MUTUAL COMPANY, ALL the profits being div. ded among the assured annu-A the profits being div. ded among the assured annually.

The New York Life Rusurance Company has been now in operation seventeen years, and has accumulated a capital of $2.20,000. Its dividends have never been less than 30 per cent. on the premiums paid, and it has disbursed to widows and orphans over $4,20,000. It has deposited with the Comptroller of New York city are of the very first and reliable names. The affairs of the Company show a lively prosperity, and each successive year, this great section; after disbursing some Two to Three Rundred Thousa, de of Dollars, are adding to their Capital the like annual.

In accordance with the requirements of the charter, the funds of the company are in w wied in stocks created by or under the laws of the State of New York, or of the United States, or on unincusquiered Real Estate, worth fifty per cent. more than the amount loaned thereon.

TEN YEAR PLAN—NON-FORPEITURE—Origin—

worth fifty per cent. more than the amount loaned thereon.

TEN YEAR PLAN—NON-FORFEITURE—Originated by the New York Live Insurance Company. By the table on which this class of policies is based, it would seem that a person incurs no risk in taking out a policy. Insuring o-day for $3,000 if he dies to-morrow the five thousand lummdiately becomes a claim, and if he lives ten years, and makes ten annual payments, his policy is paid up; nothing more to pay, and still his dividends continue, making his life policy a source of income to him while living. The principal argument of weight offered against life insurance his than a party might pay in for a number of years, and then by inadvertence, inability, &c., not be able to continue paying, and then icose all be has paid. The Kew York Life Insurance Company has done much to obviate lifs objection by the Ten Year Plan and Non-Forfsiture. A party by this table, cannot forfeit what has been paid in. Thus, if one insuring by this plan for $5,000 discontinues after the second year, the company will give him a paid up policy, according to the number of years paid in, viz.

Second year, two-tenths of amount insured.....$1,000

And so on to the tenth payment, when all is paid and the dividends continue. LOCAL REFKRENCES.

The J. D. Perry has arrived from St. Louis to-day. She reports all quiet at Commerce. The rebels have taken themselves off as nuceremonlously as they took possession. We have learned no particulars of their present whersabouts.

There is a startling rumor current on the street to-day, to the effect that the rebals have captured Island No. 10. I have been at some pains to investigate the origin of the report, and am satisfied that it is un-true. The military anthorities have not heard of it, if it be true. The information purports to have come by tslegraph from Columbus. There are too many heavy guna at the island for any force the rebels can

Col. Bruce has acquired, in this section of the country, a wide reputation for candor and honsety in all his dealings. He lands a willing ear to the complaints of all, and quickly gives a decision for the right of cither party. He is almost as famous as a "Judge," as he is for his fighting qualities.
With but a limited command he has rendered important services for his country; which the Government cannot easily forget, and performed dashing achievements of which a Major-General might wall be proud. He liss not idly in his camp, depending alone upon pickets to warn him of the ap-

His cavalry are sadly jaded from the hard duties which they have to per-form. He awaits not the organisation of a guerrilla band before he moves in the matter, but, ponnsing upon it, with one sweeping blow he nips the organization in the very bud. Hence his success! His cavalry soours the country for miles around, always having an eye to suspicions-looking individuals and the gatherings of secret bands. He learns of the collecting of a force forty or fifty miles distant; he waits not the attack, but, dashing upon them, completely surprises and disperses them.

His command is but small, consisting of not over • • • men, all told, and yet, his army scattered along the river in distance of thirty miles. It is evidently into mith the "outer world," with an snepossible for him to move on the enemy in force—should he attempt to mass his forces not only able to hold his position, but inflict severe blows upon those who were plandic to the standard of the st Russellville, Red Springs, and Hopkins-

So soon as we have rain enough to raise the river, no doubt but the commanders of both armies will act.

Gov. Letcher's recommendation, to destroy the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, as far as is known, has been carried out to its full extent, from Harper's Ferry to ten miles beyond Martinsburg, by the burning of gross-ties, water-stations, and bridges, and the filing of outs and carrying off rails.

While speaking of energetic and merito-rious officers, I should not forget the cu. member of Bruce's staff, Capt. F. W. Fee, A. Q. M. and A. C. S. When cut off from communication, the immense supplies which had to be forwarded to Gen. In reference to the campaign in Contucky, the New Albany Ledger, of last evening, makes the following remarks: The campaign of Gen. Buell in Kentucky is, as far as the pursuit of Bragg's army was concerned, ended—ended, it is true, was concerned, ended survey, to without the capture of Bragg, or without the dighting any decisive battle. We cannot say, however, that the campaign has been barren of results to the Union cause. Bragg's immense army of over 80,000 men entered Kentucky for the purpose of pes-sessing and holding it, and to establish in that State the Confederate to the displace-ment of the Federal authority. It entered the State to capture and occupy its princi-pal towns; and it was unquestionably the rebel programme and the fondest hope of Gen. Bragg himself to winter his army on the banks of the Ohio river, and to make Indiana and Ohio contribute to the supply from the "isolated city" may prove of some of their wants.

Gen. Buell has disappointed this hope, and has driven back the invadsrate the Bowlinggreen has long figured in print

Tennessee. He has saved Kentucky from the horrors which would have followed its occupation by the rebels-he has saved the State tophe Union. Let honor be given him tragic war. When the "stars and bars" for this great, though almost bloodless, waved from her fortified hills, many correspendents were at hand to record the daily were looked for; but if he has accomplished transactions and praise the General then add to the fame of his military genius?

WHY BUELL DID NOT PURSUE BRAGG .-The New Albany Ledger professes to have and he who has so long falthfully guarded information from army officers, which, if the flag of our glorious Union, ever jealous of her rights, and beneath her folds admin-letsring impartial justice to all within the limits of his command; he, whose prompt why Gen. Buell did not pursue Bragg into

J. J. RUCKER, A. M., Professor of Mathematics, Mechanics and Astrohomy,
The Trustees are determined to carry this Institution vigorously through the present crisis in the affairs of the country. Though the students will be necessarily much fewer than they have been in times of peace, yet with such a Faculty and the advantages of the most complete Library and Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus in the country it is hoped a fair class will be in attendance. Whether many or few, however, Providence permitting, the College will go on as usual.
